(Y)OUR NEIGHBOURHOOD COFFEEHOUSE

In 2015, a couple of neighbours decided to open a cafe in the small centenarian space at 5 Arlington Avenue, just behind Wilf & Ada's, on the corner of Bank Street in Centretown.

They had big dreams for such a quirky little space...but, hey, they were (and still very much are) rather quirky themselves. They brought in a big harvest table made of cherry wood and put it in the middle of the room. They stripped off the crumbling drywall and found a wall of mottled brick underneath, full of colour. They set about bringing in good coffee (& other good stuff) sourced from folks they knew and trusted. They painted COFFEE in big block letters on

They painted COFFEE in big block letters on the façade, and hoped the beacon would invite folks in. And it sure as heck did.

Eight plus years later, Arlington Five has grown into a very special space for community. Coffeehouses have long been spaces for exchange; here, artists, activists, animators, academics—and just a ton of awesome people—keep this space alive and adapting, in exchange for good coffee and heartfelt hospitality. A5 has become a space that belongs to many. And guess what? It belongs to you too.

This is not just where your coffee happens.

This is (y)our space.

Arlington Five

We acknowledge that A5 exists on unceded Algonquin-Anishinabeg territory and that we are extremely privileged to do so. We aim to be an accommodating, welcoming and inclusive space, however, we recognize that this is a work in progress. We are unfortunately not wholly accessible (yet). There is a two-step stoop at the front entrance, and the washroom is in the basement. The back door is at street level and can be accessed via the driveway. Please contact us directly should you have further questions or concerns about (y)our space.

MY MAIN STREET
MA RUE PRINCIPALE

My Main Street encourages growth and economic prosperity on main streets across southern Ontario by driving business and creating vibrancy in local communities. We gratefully recognize the support we have received through this funding stream.
